

2017 SUMMER MEETING

July 14-16

Ritz-Carlton Amelia Island

Jointly sponsored by...
American Society of Anesthesiologists

OVERVIEW

The 2017 GSA Summer Meeting is jointly sponsored by the American Society of Anesthesiologists and the Georgia Society of Anesthesiologists. As a convenience to GSA members and guests, this continuing education conference is structured as a two-day event. The meeting offers up to 9.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ with content derived from educational survey feedback and post-meeting evaluations over the last few years. In addition, the Patient Safety panel discussion provides 1 MOCA course hour. The educational focus informs attendees on current issues in anesthesiology and updates across multiple disciplines.

The Ritz-Carlton is an excellent venue for the conference. Enjoy the educational portion of the meeting and receive appropriate business and government affairs information during the GSA General Business Meeting, which will be held Sunday, 7:00—7:30am.

Registration Information

The GSA member rate is $450 for physicians, $175 for residents, $275 for AAs, $200 for retired physicians, and $50 for students. The non-member rate is $575 for physicians, $225 for residents, $375 for AAs, $200 for retired physicians, $50 for students, and $575 for CRNAs. Educational seminars, breakfasts and breaks are for the REGISTRANT ONLY. A $100 late fee will be applied to all registration forms received after Monday, July 10, 2017. This late fee applies to both on-site and online registration. Guests are welcome at both Friday and Saturday evening receptions and the Saturday afternoon ice cream social.

Accreditation

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of the American Society of Anesthesiologists and the Georgia Society of Anesthesiologists. The American Society of Anesthesiologists is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation

The American Society of Anesthesiologists designates this live activity for a maximum of 9.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

To access the course, claim your CME credits, complete the program evaluation and print your CME certificate, log in to the ASA Education Center at the following link: <http://education.asahq.org/>

Patient Safety Panel Discussion

This activity contributes to the patient safety CME requirement for Part II: Lifelong Learning and Self-Assessment of the American Board of Anesthesiology's (ABA) redesigned Maintenance of Certification in Anesthesiology Program® (MOCA®) known as MOCA 2.0™. Please consult the ABA website, www.theABA.org, for a list of all MOCA 2.0 requirements.

Cancellation Policy

Cancellations and/or changes in registration or participation in all or any portion of the meeting must be received at GSA headquarters by Monday, July 10, 2017, to qualify for refund. Absolutely no refunds will be issued for changes received at GSA headquarters after Monday, July 10, 2017. The cancellation policy and late registration fee will be strictly enforced.

Evening Hospitality

All registrants, faculty, exhibitors and guests are invited to enjoy evening hospitality events offered Friday and Saturday. Badges are required for participation in all receptions. Please register your guests so that a badge can be produced.

Questions

Please visit the registration desk for more information or clarification on any of the meeting elements, schedule or CME verification.

Disclaimer

The information provided at this CME activity is for continuing education purposes only and is not meant to substitute for the independent medical judgment of a healthcare provider relative to diagnostic and treatment options of a specific patient's medical condition.

Learning Objectives

Small Private vs Big Conglomerate vs Academic: How Different Are We Really?

Richard P. Dutton, MD, MBA; USAP

At the conclusion of this lecture participants should be able to:

1. Determine the differences in quality improvement resources between small, large and academic anesthesia practices,
2. Identify sources of data for quality improvement, and
3. Recognize efficient methods for data collection and reporting.

Big Data: Big Problem or Big Solution?

Vikas N. O'Reilly-Shah, MD, PhD; Emory University Healthcare

At the conclusion of this lecture participants should be able to:

1. Describe the differences between standard large data sets and "big data",
2. Assess the strengths and limitations of retrospective studies using large databases and big data,
3. Distinguish between data and metadata and identify the role of each in knowledge discovery, and
4. Identify existing and new data sources for health services research using big data.

Perioperative Blood Sparing: How Low is Too Low?

Susan Smith, MD; Oshner Health System

The following learning objectives will be addressed:

1. What are the deleterious effects of anemia in the surgical patient?
2. What are the deleterious effects of the transfusion of blood products in the surgical patient?
3. What is the evidence that supports specific transfusion triggers in the surgical patient?
4. What guidelines exist that support and/or refute transfusion triggers?

Learning Objectives

Safety Panel

Susan Smith, MD; Oshner Health System - Handoffs; Emily J. Baird, MD; OHSU -Obstetric Peri-partum Hemorrhage; Vikas N. O'Reilly-Shah, MD, PhD; Emory - Pediatrics; Milad Sharifpour, MD; Emory- Critical Care

The following learning objectives will be addressed:

OB Hemorrhage Safety Update

1. Use of uterontonic agents for uterine atony,
2. Role of fibrinogen in the diagnosis and management of hemorrhage,
3. Efficacy and safety of TXA for postpartum bleeding, and
4. Risk factors associated with obstetric hemorrhage.

Pediatrics

1. Describe the metabolic pathways associated with codeine toxicity, and
2. Summarize alternatives to codeine in perioperative management of post-tonsillectomy pain.
3. Assess the evidence related to the recent FDA warning on anesthetic neurotoxicity, and
4. Explain the consensus statement of the Society for Pediatric Anesthesia responding to the FDA Medwatch.

MACRA and Practice Management: What to Know for the Front Lines?

Richard P. Dutton, MD, MBA; USAP

At the conclusion of this lecture participants should be able to:

1. Identify federal pay-for-performance requirements in 2017 and beyond,
2. Discriminate among different methods for data collection, and
3. Discriminate among different methods for reporting data to CMS.

Hot Off the Press: Novel Ideas vs. Old Standards. What's New to Our Literature?

Milad Sharifpour, MD; Emory

The following learning objectives will be addressed:

1. An update on intraoperative ketamine and its impact on postoperative delirium.,
2. Review the current intraoperative lung protective mechanical ventilation strategies,
3. Review the role of postoperative high sensitivity troponin as a risk stratification tool for 30 day mortality, and
4. Examine the evidence behind endotracheal intubation during cardiac arrest.

Learning Objectives

Alternative Labor Analgesia for Diverse Populations: What Choices Are Available and Who Controls the Risk?

Emily J. Baird, MD, PhD; OHSU

At the conclusion of this lecture participants should be able to determine:

1. Efficacy of dural puncture epidural,
2. Benefits of Programmed Intermittent Epidural Bolus,
3. Role of Remifentanyl for Labor Analgesia, and
4. Use of Nitrous Oxide in Peripartum Period.

Changes in Volume Management: From Infancy to Geriatrics

Fluid Panel Adult update: How Much is Too Much?

Milad Sharifpour, MD; Emory

The following learning objectives will be addressed:

1. Examine whether the third space exists,
2. Review monitoring intraoperative volume status, and
3. Review the current literature on goal directed therapy (GDT).

Perioperative Fluid Management in Geriatric Patients

Susan Smith, MD; Oshner Health System;

The following learning objectives will be addressed:

1. What are the specific challenges in managing the geriatric patient?
2. What is goal directed fluid therapy?
3. What is the evidence supporting goal directed fluid therapy?
4. What are the recommendations that exist for goal directed fluid therapy in the geriatric patient?

Volume Management in Peds

Vikas N. O'Reilly-Shah, MD, PhD; Emory

At the conclusion of this lecture participants should be able to:

1. Differentiate between the hemodynamic effects of hypotonic and isotonic solutions,
2. Restate the evidence of effects possibly associated with the administration of chloride-rich isotonic solutions,
3. Describe situations in which various types of fluids would be preferred in the pediatric setting, and
4. Recite the differences in fluid management considerations between neonatal, infant, and older pediatric patient.

Faculty

Emily J. Baird, MD

Oregon Health Sciences University (OHSU)

Dr. Emily Baird is an assistant professor in the Department of Anesthesiology and Perioperative Medicine at Oregon Health & Science University (OHSU). Dr. Baird completed a PhD in organic chemistry at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York and also completed a fellowship in obstetric anesthesia at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania (HUP). At the HUP, Dr. Baird served as the Director of Obstetric Anesthesia. Dr. Baird's academic interests include graduate medical education and obstetric anesthesia, and she currently serves as the assistant resident program director in the Department of Anesthesiology and Perioperative Medicine. She currently serves as an associate editor for the Survey of Anesthesiology. Dr. Baird's clinical interests include anesthesia for obstetrics, liver transplantation, and intra-abdominal surgery.

Richard P. Dutton, MD, MBA

US Anesthesia Partners (USAP)

Dr. Richard Dutton is the Chief Quality Officer of US Anesthesia Partners, Inc. He is a former Chief Quality Officer of the ASA and as the founding Executive Director of the Anesthesia Quality Institute (AQI), an organization which houses the largest anesthesia quality registry in the country. He received his BA from Harvard in 1983, an MD from Tufts University School of Medicine in 1987 and an MBA from the University of Maryland in 2001. His former positions include attending anesthesiologist at the National Naval Medical Center and Director of Trauma Anesthesiology at the R. Adams Cowley Shock Trauma Center of the University of Maryland.

James Grant, MD, MBA; ASA President-Elect

Oakland University William Beaumont School of Medicine

Dr. James Grant is the President-Elect of the American Society of Anesthesiologists. In addition, he is Chair of the Department of Anesthesiology at Beaumont Hospital-Royal Oak in Michigan and professor and Chair of Anesthesiology at Oakland University William Beaumont School of Medicine in Rochester, Michigan. He is also an associate examiner of the American Board of Anesthesiology and is the chair of the Michigan delegation to the American Medical Association. Dr. Grant has served as ASA treasurer and first vice-president. He has served on the ASA Board of Directors since 1999. He is currently chair of ASA's Section on Fiscal Affairs and the Committee on Executive Compensation. He is an associate examiner of the American Board of Anesthesiology.

Faculty

Vikas N. O'Reilly-Shah, MD, PhD
Emory University School of Medicine

Dr. Vikas N. O'Reilly-Shah is Assistant Professor of Anesthesiology serving at both Emory University Hospital and at Children's Healthcare of Atlanta Egleston. His clinical expertise and research interests include perioperative outcomes and management, applications of technology for the improvement of resident and fellow education, and leveraging modern electronic medical records for research and quality improvement. He completed a pediatric anesthesiology fellowship at Lucille Packard Children's Hospital in Palo Alto, CA. He is an author on numerous publications and abstracts and was nominated for Best Abstract at the 2016 American Society of Anesthesiologists Annual Meeting.

Milad Sharifpour, MD
Emory University School of Medicine

Dr. Milad Sharifpour is Assistant Professor of Anesthesiology serving at Emory University Hospital. He received his critical care fellowship at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine after his residency training at Massachusetts General Hospital. He practices both general anesthesiology and critical care medicine, the latter in the cardiothoracic surgery intensive care units. He currently organizes residency didactics and board review for the anesthesiology trainees. His interests are in fluid and ventilator management.

Susan Smith, MD
Oshner Health System

Dr. Susan Smith is an Assistant Professor of Anesthesiology at the Oshner Health System. She received a Doctor of Medicine degree from the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine located in Philadelphia, PA. Dr. Smith is an active member of several organizations including the American Society of Anesthesiologists, the Society of Education in Anesthesia, the International Liver Transplant Society, and the Society of Cardiac Anesthesiology. Her interests include liver transplantation, perioperative hemorrhage and transfusion management, and patient handoffs.

Disclosure & Resolution of Conflicts of Interest

The American Society of Anesthesiologists remains strongly committed to providing the best available evidence-based clinical information to participants of this educational activity and requires an open disclosure of any potential conflict of interest identified by our faculty members. It is not the intent of the American Society of Anesthesiologists to eliminate all situations of potential conflict of interest, but rather to enable those who are working with the American Society of Anesthesiologists to recognize situations that may be subject to question by others. All disclosed conflicts of interest are reviewed by the educational activity course director/chair to ensure that such situations are properly evaluated and, if necessary, resolved. The American Society of Anesthesiologists educational standards pertaining to conflict of interest are intended to maintain the professional autonomy of the clinical experts inherent in promoting a balanced presentation of science. Through our review process, all American Society of Anesthesiologists CME activities are ensured of independent, objective, scientifically balanced presentations of information. Disclosure of any or no relationships will be made available for all educational activities.

Planner, Faculty and Staff Disclosure

All Faculty, including editors, authors, reviewers, and staff for the GSA 2017 Summer Meeting have reported no relevant financial relationships with commercial interest.

Directions for Claiming CME Credit

Please follow these directions to access the course, claim your CME credits, complete the program evaluation(s) and print your CME certificate(s):

1. Log in to the ASA Education Center at: <http://education.asahq.org/>
If you have accessed the ASA Education Center for a previous meeting, please use your existing ASA username and password.

If you have not previously accessed the ASA Education Center, you will soon receive an e-mail from the ASA Education Center with log-in instructions.

2. Once you have logged on to the ASA Education Center homepage, click the tab labeled "My Learning" and select "My Enrollments" from the drop down menu to access the link for the GSA 2017 Summer meeting.
3. Select the link to access the course evaluation and claim credit.
4. To retrieve a username or password, enter email address at: <http://education.asahq.org/user/password>

Note: Physicians should claim only credit commensurate with the extent of their participation.

For additional information, please contact the ASA Education Center at educationcenter@asahq.org.

All credits must be claimed by December 31, 2017.
